Three Rivers Running Company, located at 6312 Covington Road, opened its doors for business in March 2004. Co-owners are Brad Altevogt and Pat Sullivan, and Josh Brunson is the store manager. There are nine employees.

Three Rivers Running Company is a specialty retailer of running shoes, apparel, nutrition accessories, and training accessories. "We offer technical products, running and product expertise, and a supportive atmosphere for runners and walkers of all abilities and fitness levels," according to Brunson.

"We are not part of a retail chain or other company; we are locally and independently owned," says Brunson, who points out that the store is staffed by runners and fitness enthusiasts. "We know our product because we use and wear what we sell," he says. The staff is also trained by local podiatrists and physical therapists, which Brunson says helps fit customers into the running shoes that are right for them.

For more information, stop by the store; call 459-3668; or visit www.3riversrunning.com.
